

Selection of Remediation Alternatives

EBP Brazil is a reference in area rehabilitation management, besides having important knowledge of techniques and intervention measures. In addition to the innovative spirit of its team, EBP Brazil offers a differentiated study to select alternatives for environmental remediation, in order to support the decision making by our clients.

The measures and techniques selection is part of the environmental management of areas in the remediation process and EBP Brazil prepares the study considering all technical criteria - evaluating environmental remediation technologies, the economic, environmental and safety aspect, besides considering aspects of the client and parties involved.
